MEETS C O O L

The Hilton Chicago opened its doors in 1927 as the Stevens Hotel and continues to fulfill the vision of its original founder and first namesake – to create an entirely self-sufficient city within a city, a place capable of offering the most extensive convention and conference facilities in a primary destination. Today, we’re keeping the dream alive, having just completed a $150 million renovation maintaining the hotel’s classic integrity with all the modern conveniences you’ve come to expect to deliver the very best meetings, conventions and accommodations experience.
