

CELEBRATE 100 YEARS

OF DELIVERING THE LIGHT & WARMTH OF HOSPITALITY

To Connect. To Celebrate. To Innovate.

You're cordially invited to partake in the milestone anniversary, where classic meets cool.

Circa May 2, 1927, Hilton Chicago opened as The Stevens Hotel and was dubbed as The World's Greatest Hotel. It was then pledged (and upheld over the past 100 years) that the hotel will always provide rest, refreshments, entertainment in such a manner and in such measure that the stranger within the hotel's gates will feel that Chicago is not only great in material but also host-friendly, hospitable, and kind.

Become part of the history, when you book an event by December 31, 2025 for meetings actualizing between Jan 1, 2027 – Dec 31, 2027 for groups of 100 rooms + on peak, to be hosted in the same spaces that once greeted the likes of Charles A. Lindbergh, Amelia Earhart, Queen Elizabeth II, JFK, Dior fashion shows, Apollo 8, and the first Motion Pictures Association Ball, as well as serving as a military barrack during WWII.

"No one can predict what the changes of the next century will bring forth. It may be that today's wonder a hundred years from now will seem archaic, but that fact remains, this colossal structure...this masterpiece of Bedford stone, steel girders, brick, cement, and marble has been built to withstand the wear and tear of ages."

— PAUL T. GILBERT, ARCHITECTURAL JOURNALIST
